Subject:	Update on Public Input on the Dunwoody's Comprehensive Plan and Unified Development Ordinance (UDO)

ITEM DESCRIPTION

This item is an update on where the public input is going and how the comprehensive plan and code rewrite (UDO) is coming along.

DISCUSSION

The City of Dunwoody entered into an agreement with TSW and several other firms like Kimley-Horn and Code Studio to do our Comprehensive Plan and the major code rewrite. We kicked the meeting off on June 10, 2024. The process will take about two years. TSW and staff have identified several public input meetings that will be had in the time frame of the comprehensive plan and code rewrite. There are 7 public meetings plus public hearings at both the planning commission and the city council for the comprehensive plan and again for the adoption of the UDO. In addition, we also have the steering committee which has an additional 9 meetings. Beginning this week, TSW is conducting stakeholders meeting in person or online.

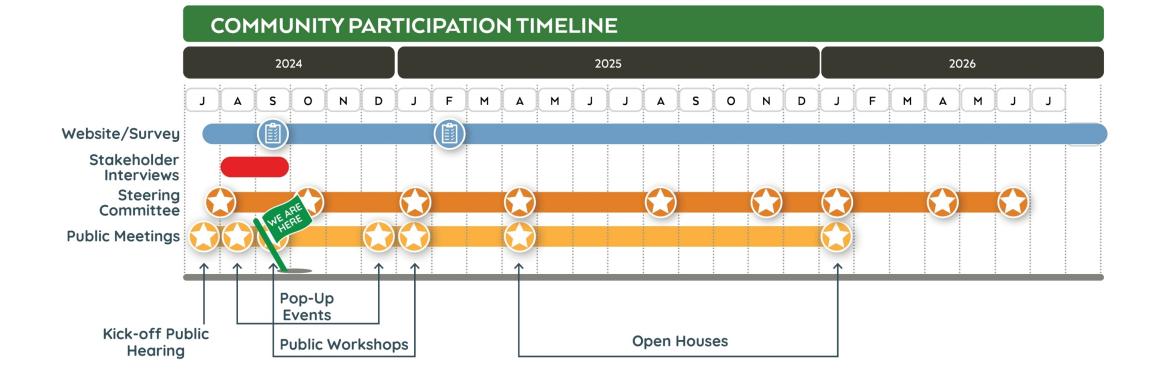

Plus, staff, TSW and team have reached out to people by passing out flyers about future public meetings and the survey and discussing the comprehensive plan and the UDO. Last Sunday, I went to the Latino-Hispanic Cultural Heritage Celebration held at Ashford Lane. We also had a public pop-up event at the back-to-school event at the Village. Plus, we went to the Pics in the Park city event, the Food Truck Thursday, and we had staff go out and distribute flyers to people in the park on a weekday.

TSW and team conducted a survey of the entire city and as of this writing of this memo we had received 1070 responses to the survey. This is a very good turnout. TSW will follow up with another survey in the first quarter of next year.
